

READING MARATHON 2012

LOOKING FOR READERS!

The Seattle Public Library is challenging the students, faculty and staff of Seattle middle schools to compete in a Reading Marathon!

On Saturday, Jan. 28, 2012 from 11 a.m. - 5 p.m., librarians at six branches will log reading hours earned by each middle school. Readers will be sustained with pizza and snacks, and are free to come and go throughout the day. The school with the most hours logged at the end of the day will win an exciting grand prize!
